It's written in the (gold) stars

Whether it be onboard or ashore, Celestyal is continuously being recognised for leading the way with over 60 accolades to its name in the past five years.

"Celestyal Cruises' approach to service is the same as its approach to cruising - authentic, personalised and warm. From wait staff to cabin stewards, bar staff to officers, nothing is too much trouble and the line goes out of its way to ensure each passenger feels special and happy to be onboard. It's a well-deserved win for this small-ship line."

Cruise Critic, Editors' Picks, Best Service 2023.

Since we first set sail in 2014, we've made our guests a little bit starry eyed over what we offer on board and on shore. In fact, we've picked up more than 60 accolades for our flexible itineraries, breathtaking destinations, and inclusive approach to solo travel over the last five years.

One of our brightest achievements is winning multiple awards for excellent service. Making you feel like a VIP is always our North Star.

It's the little things - such as your steward making ever more elaborate towel animals because you've mentioned your kids love them."

Let our customers do the talking...

Absolutely everything was done exceptionally well! Our cabin was immaculately clean, the crew were friendly & answered our questions (very helpful!), we loved the towels made into shapes, and treats! The food was delicious, with pleasant & kind staff.

We loved relaxing on our balcony, and on reclining chairs other places. Music for dinner was fun--the musicians & singer seemed so happy, & enjoying themselves! Waiting for the tender at Mikos, it was awesome to have iced towels. The crew on shore at all the ports were very helpful & guided us to & from the ship (good signs & banners, and crew members there, too).

We had an amazing time! The excursions were absolutely amazing and prepared with every detail in mind. The guides were so knowledgeable and we loved that the excursions were separated by preferred language.

I was super impressed with how clean the ship was (the late night crew even sanitized the stairs railing). Even the wooden deck 7 was without any inconvenience beautifully sanded and stained. The care put into making their ship clean and shiny was visible in all areas and appreciated by us!

The very last morning at the breakfast we all agreed that we would love to do it all over again!

My husband and I had a fantastic time on our first cruise experience. Celestyal couldn't have done more to make the trip easy and stress free.

There were lots of staff on hand to help, our cabin was larger than we expected, cleaned twice a day and the food was exceptional - lots of traditional choices but variety so something for everyone.

The boat was a great size, not too big or crowded but large enough that there were entertainment options all day and night, 2 pools, lots of different bars, activities, spa facilities and shops.

We thoroughly enjoyed the Greek hospitality onboard and with the itinerary it was superb for ourselves who have an appreciation for ancient history that we explored at each port of call. Thank you to the Celestyal Team for a very enjoyable experience.

Ashdod

Israel, the world's only Jewish and democratic state, is home to sites sacred to Judaism as well as Christianity and Islam - and few countries so small pack in as much diverse geography and culture. Ashdod, for example, is Israel's largest port and was actually settled as early as the 17th century BC by the Bronze Age Canaanites - with Philistines, Israelites, and Greek colonists just some of the many ancient peoples who followed. The seaside city is mentioned frequently in the Old Testament, but with plenty of modern appeals, Ashdod is much more than its past. Located on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea, it has a diverse population of some 250,000, well-kept beaches, a boardwalk with restaurants and cafes and a prestigious marina. Beyond the beaches, Ashdod offers various attractions such as the "Etgarim (Extreme Sports) Park," wonderful public artworks on display and more. Ad Halom Park is located in the southeastern part of the city. Ashdod is also your Mediterranean gateway to the capital of Israel, Jerusalem, approximately a one hour's drive to the east, and glittering Tel Aviv-Yafo, on the coast about 40 minutes' drive north.

Your resorts

With a recorded history going back more than three millennia, Athens is one of the oldest cities in the world and rightly considered to be the cradle of Western Civilization. Even a short visit of the Greek capital's highlights, starting with the iconic Acropolis, is enough to fall under its legendary spell.

Your resorts

Chios

With a rich history stretching back to ancient times, Chios' mysteries and beauty capture hearts and minds as a matter of course. This ancient island is rumoured to be the birthplace of the legendary ancient poet Homer, with the Daskalopetra, or Teacher's Stone, marking the spot where he taught his students and narrated his poems. Explore Chios on foot and you'll weave your way from the black stone beach of Mavros Gialos and its volcanic rocks to the abandoned village of Anavatos. Seeking shelter from the marauding Ottoman troops, the local villagers fled to the nearby Nea Mono Monastery but were still discovered. Today the abandoned hillside village stands empty as a testament to their memory. While Chios has a rich historical heritage, the island has a cosmopolitan feel today. It also produces thousands of crates of citrusy fruits, from sun-soaked oranges to tangy lemons.

Corfu

Welcome to one of the most diverse, verdant and fascinating Greek islands – the seventh largest and the setting of several myths and legends. It is on Corfu's shores where Odysseus was shipwrecked and sent on his way, and where the god of the sea, Poseidon, is said to have settled. Corfu Town is cosmopolitan, charming and friendly. You can easily lose yourself here as you explore the narrow alleyways, soak up the atmosphere and meet the locals at one of the many cafes, bars and restaurants. You may be surprised by the Italian feel, largely thanks to the Venetian architecture, but you won't be surprised by the Greek warm welcome.

Crete (Chania Souda)

Approaching Chania by sea, you might believe that you've landed on the banks of Venice – its old Venetian port will tempt you to discover more. Step into a picture postcard Greek Island town complete with pastel-coloured waterfront buildings, dreamy harbor walls and old-world aura. As Crete's second largest town and former island capital, Chania boasts museums, churches and culture that easily satisfy a day's sightseeing. Winding streets, seaside restaurants and craft shops also make you slow down and settle into life at a relaxed Mediterranean pace. Divided into two parts – old and new – Chania is reminiscent of Venice and Florence for its architecture, yet as you wander further along its narrow streets, you'll get a sense of its deeply rooted Cretan traditions. And Chania's charm doesn't stop there. Travel further along the western coast of Crete and discover some of the most beautiful natural beaches in the Greek Islands.

Your resorts

Crete (Heraklion)

Enjoy the calm of the stunning seafront, explore the Cretan countryside or discover the Palace of Knossos. Was the minotaur half-man or myth? You're about to find out. Don't be fooled by the imposing 16th-century walls of Koules Fortress - Heraklion is a charming Aegean paradise.

Dikili

The best way to greet Dikili is from the sea as the turquoise waters give way to a vision of golden sandy beaches at the edge of a beautiful bay, and the promise of enchanted green landscapes just beyond. Dikili is one of the traditional Holiday destinations of the large Turkish port city of Izmir and makes for an idyllic summertime pause for its small villages, fish restaurants, and scenic landscapes that the seaside village of Bademli to the south and a bit inland thermal springs and a waterfall at Nebiler, on the Kemente Plateau. But pry yourself away from this gorgeous stretch of the coast because Dikili is also the springboard to the glorious ruins of Pergamon, one of the most beautiful and significant of the ancient Greek cities of Asia Minor and today a UNESCO World Heritage site. Pergamon is home to some of the most evocative archaeological sites not just in Turkey but in the entire Mediterranean world.

Your resorts

Doha

Multicultural Doha, where tradition and innovation go hand in hand. Stock up on spices in the souks, or indulge in a spot of retail therapy at one of the city's shopping malls. Step into a scene where the world's tallest building kisses the sky, while bustling souks offer a treasure trove of wonders from exotic spices to statement jewellery. Get ready to haggle as you navigate through vibrant streets, and let the allure of this desert oasis captivate your senses.

Your resorts

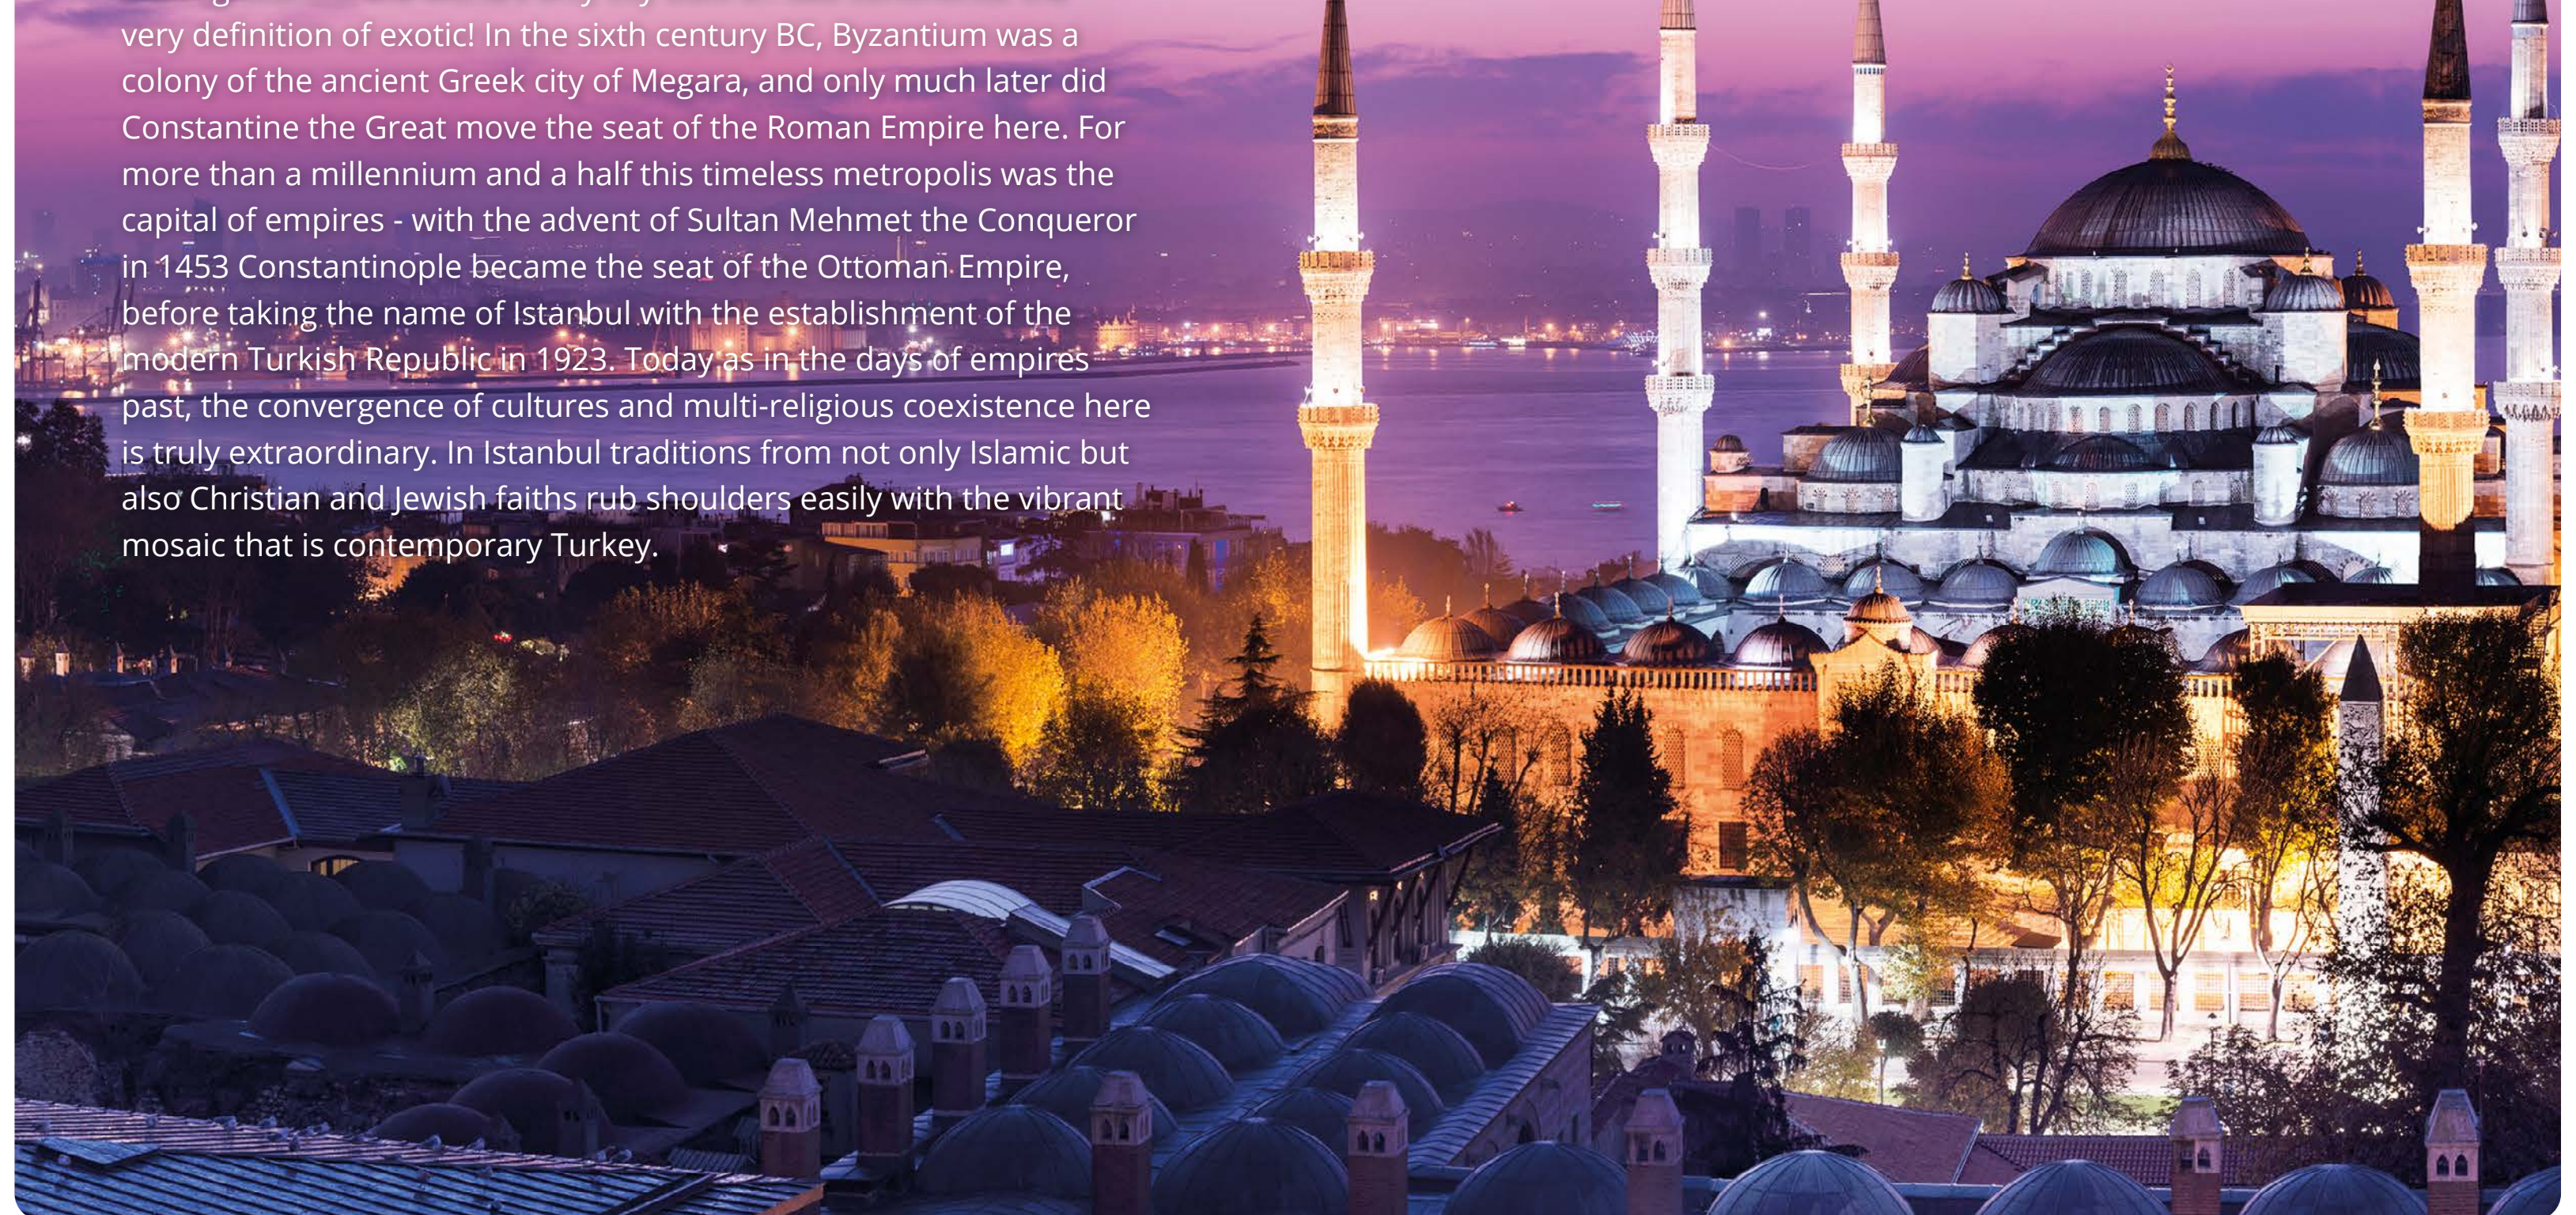

Dubrovnik

This gem in the Adriatic's crown shimmers with its beauty, history, and artisan culture. Protected by towering fortress walls, Dubrovnik stands tall with Medieval stature, yet the baroque architecture at street level speaks of opulence. Aromatic scents stir the imagination and lead to independent cafes, bars and restaurants that pack boutique and bohemian charm. Yet high on the city walls, a sweeping view across the winding streets, verdant hills beyond and the glittering Adriatic give a sense of the city's grandeur. Dubrovnik is splendid, from its grand churches to the bright blue sea that envelopes it, yet it invites you to experience 'fjaka' – the state of ultimate relaxation that's celebrated on the Dalmatian coast.

Istanbul

Few cities represent as ravishing a meeting of substance and spectacle as Istanbul, a grand and sprawling capital that ranks among the world's truly great cities. Here are grand mosques and churches, palaces and bazaars, museums and sites of unsurpassed natural beauty and of course the legendary Bosphorus, flowing from the Black Sea past the Golden Horn and the heart of the city to the Sea of Marmara. The European part of Turkey straddles the western banks of the narrow strait and Asia starts on the eastern shore, making Istanbul the world's only city built on two continents: the very definition of exotic! In the sixth century BC, Byzantium was a colony of the ancient Greek city of Megara, and only much later did Constantine the Great move the seat of the Roman Empire here. For more than a millennium and a half this timeless metropolis was the capital of empires - with the advent of Sultan Mehmet the Conqueror in 1453 Constantinople became the seat of the Ottoman Empire, before taking the name of Istanbul with the establishment of the modern Turkish Republic in 1923. Today as in the days of empires past, the convergence of cultures and multi-religious coexistence here is truly extraordinary. In Istanbul traditions from not only Islamic but also Christian and Jewish faiths rub shoulders easily with the vibrant mosaic that is contemporary Turkey.

Your resorts

Katakolo

Transport yourself to a bygone era as you step foot in Katakolo, a Greek island brimming with historical significance. This picturesque village nestled in the Peloponnese region serves as a gateway to the legendary city of Olympia, the birthplace of the Olympic Games in 776 BC. Every corner of Katakolo echoes with the grandeur of ancient Greece, enticing you to embark on a journey through time.

Kavala

With its multifaceted history contributing to a vibrant atmosphere today, there's definitely something unique about Kavala, called "the blue city" on account of the crystal clear waters of its coasts and dreamy sea views. This atmospheric northern port city on the Thracian Sea is 27 centuries old, having been founded in the seventh century BC by settlers from the nearby Aegean island of Thassos. Back then the new town was called Neapolis, which was allied with Athens through the Peloponnesian War and later belonged to the Second Athenian League. Eventually, it would be conquered by the ancient Kingdom of Macedonia and its present name of Kavala is said to be based on the name of Alexander the Great's favorite horse. Apostle Paul alighted at Kavala (then still Neapolis) on his first voyage to Europe and in and around the city today early Christian pilgrimage sites mix with evocative remnants of Ottoman architecture like the Imaret.

Kusadasi

In the great atlas of Mediterranean antiquity, few cities shone as bright as Ephesus, part of Izmir province and the most culturally significant and best-preserved ancient city in Turkey. And Kuşadası, which dominates the gulf of the same name along this stretch of the Aegean coast, is one of the most vibrant and popular destinations in modern Turkey. It's been an important port for centuries, hosting a variety of civilizations and for a time some of the most infamous pirates of the Mediterranean. The Öküz Mehmet Pasha Caravanserai was built in 1618, confirming Kuşadası's role as a prominent Ottoman trading center. Sizzling beaches next to sparkling blue water, lively bars and a bustling Grand Bazaar add up to exciting times in this buzzing Turkish city, but above all, it is the chief point of entry to the magnificent ruins of Ephesus. South of Kuşadası, ruins of the ancient Greek city of Miletus are located near the mouth of the legendary Meander River.

Limassol

Limassol, the seaside city in Cyprus that is the island's second-largest after its divided capital of Nicosia, is located between the ancient sites of Amathous to the east and Kourion to the west. Called Lemesos in Greek, travelers will find much to discover in and around this bustling, historic port. Limassol like Cyprus as a whole has seen many empires and conquerors come and go, absorbing the cultures and flavors they brought with them to become one of the most cosmopolitan ports in the Mediterranean, and indeed the world, today. Turn on the radio in Limassol at any time of day or night and you're likely to hear everything from Greek, Cypriot and Lebanese pop music to Israeli news and English DJs: this is very much a modern crossroads of the Mediterranean.

Your resorts

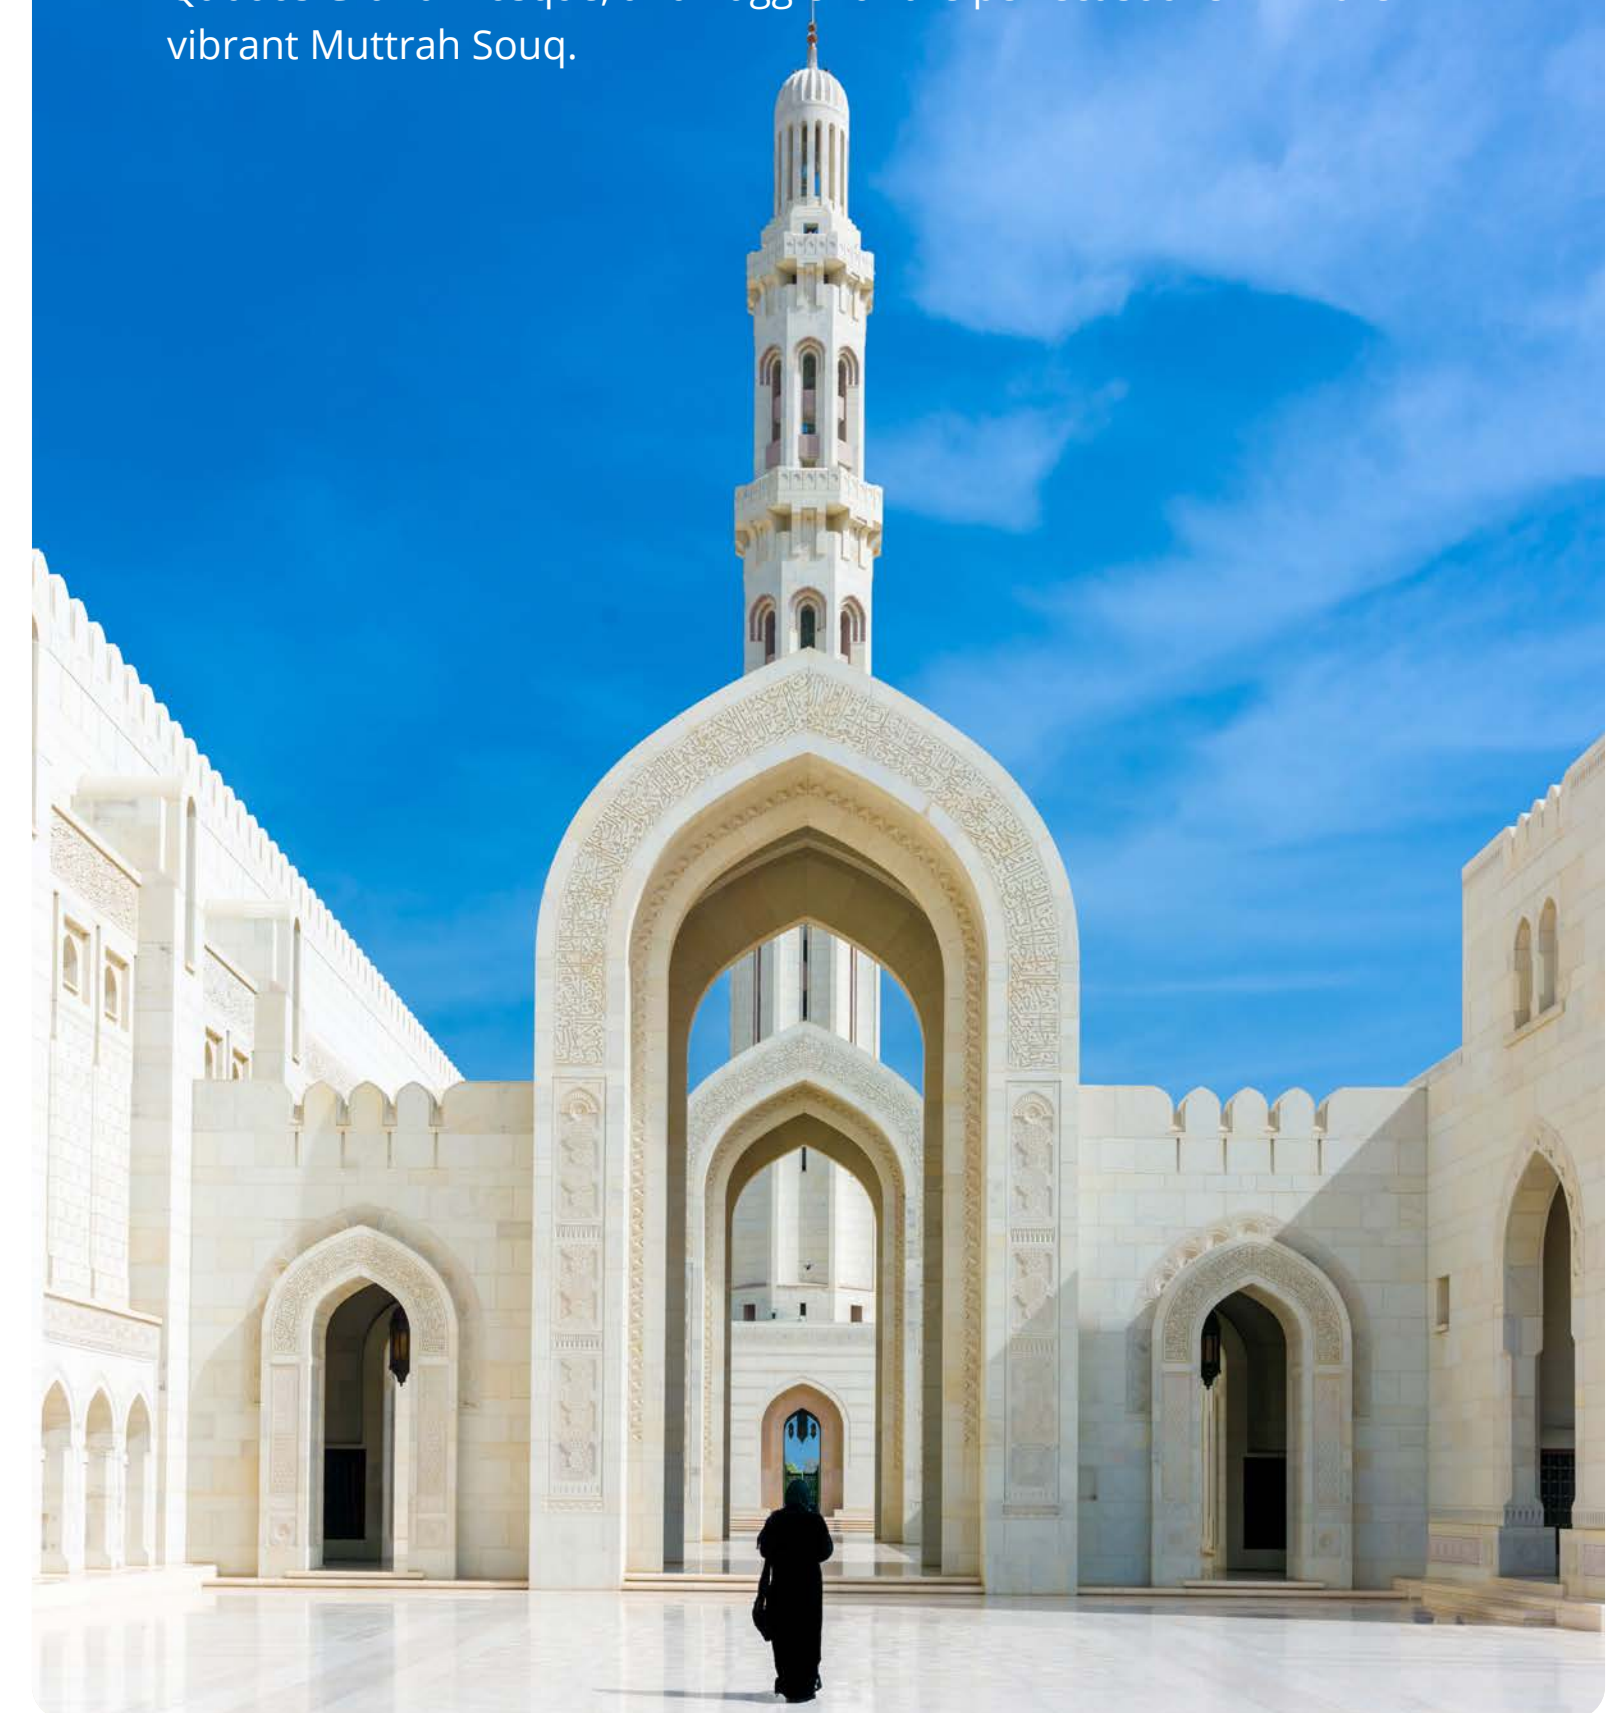

Milos

The horseshoe-shaped Greek island of Milos, which is the southernmost island of the western Cyclades, is a real unsung pearl of the Aegean. Volcanic by origin, the island has a stunning array of landscapes and beaches with backdrops of multicolored cliffs and water that dazzles with crystalline greens and blues. Its captivating geological formations are the result of undersea eruptions that started perhaps up to three million years ago, which piled up layers of lava that reacted to the island's geothermal waters and created a kaleidoscope of rock formations and sea stacks like the rock of Arkouda that jut up spectacularly from the sea floor in many places along the island's 126 kilometers of coastline. Look carefully and you can sometimes even see steam rising from fumaroles on both land and sea, and there are abundant mineral springs on the island too. Milos does not have a caldera like nearby Santorini, but it is full of marvels forged by nature, making it a sensory feast unlike any other.

Muscat

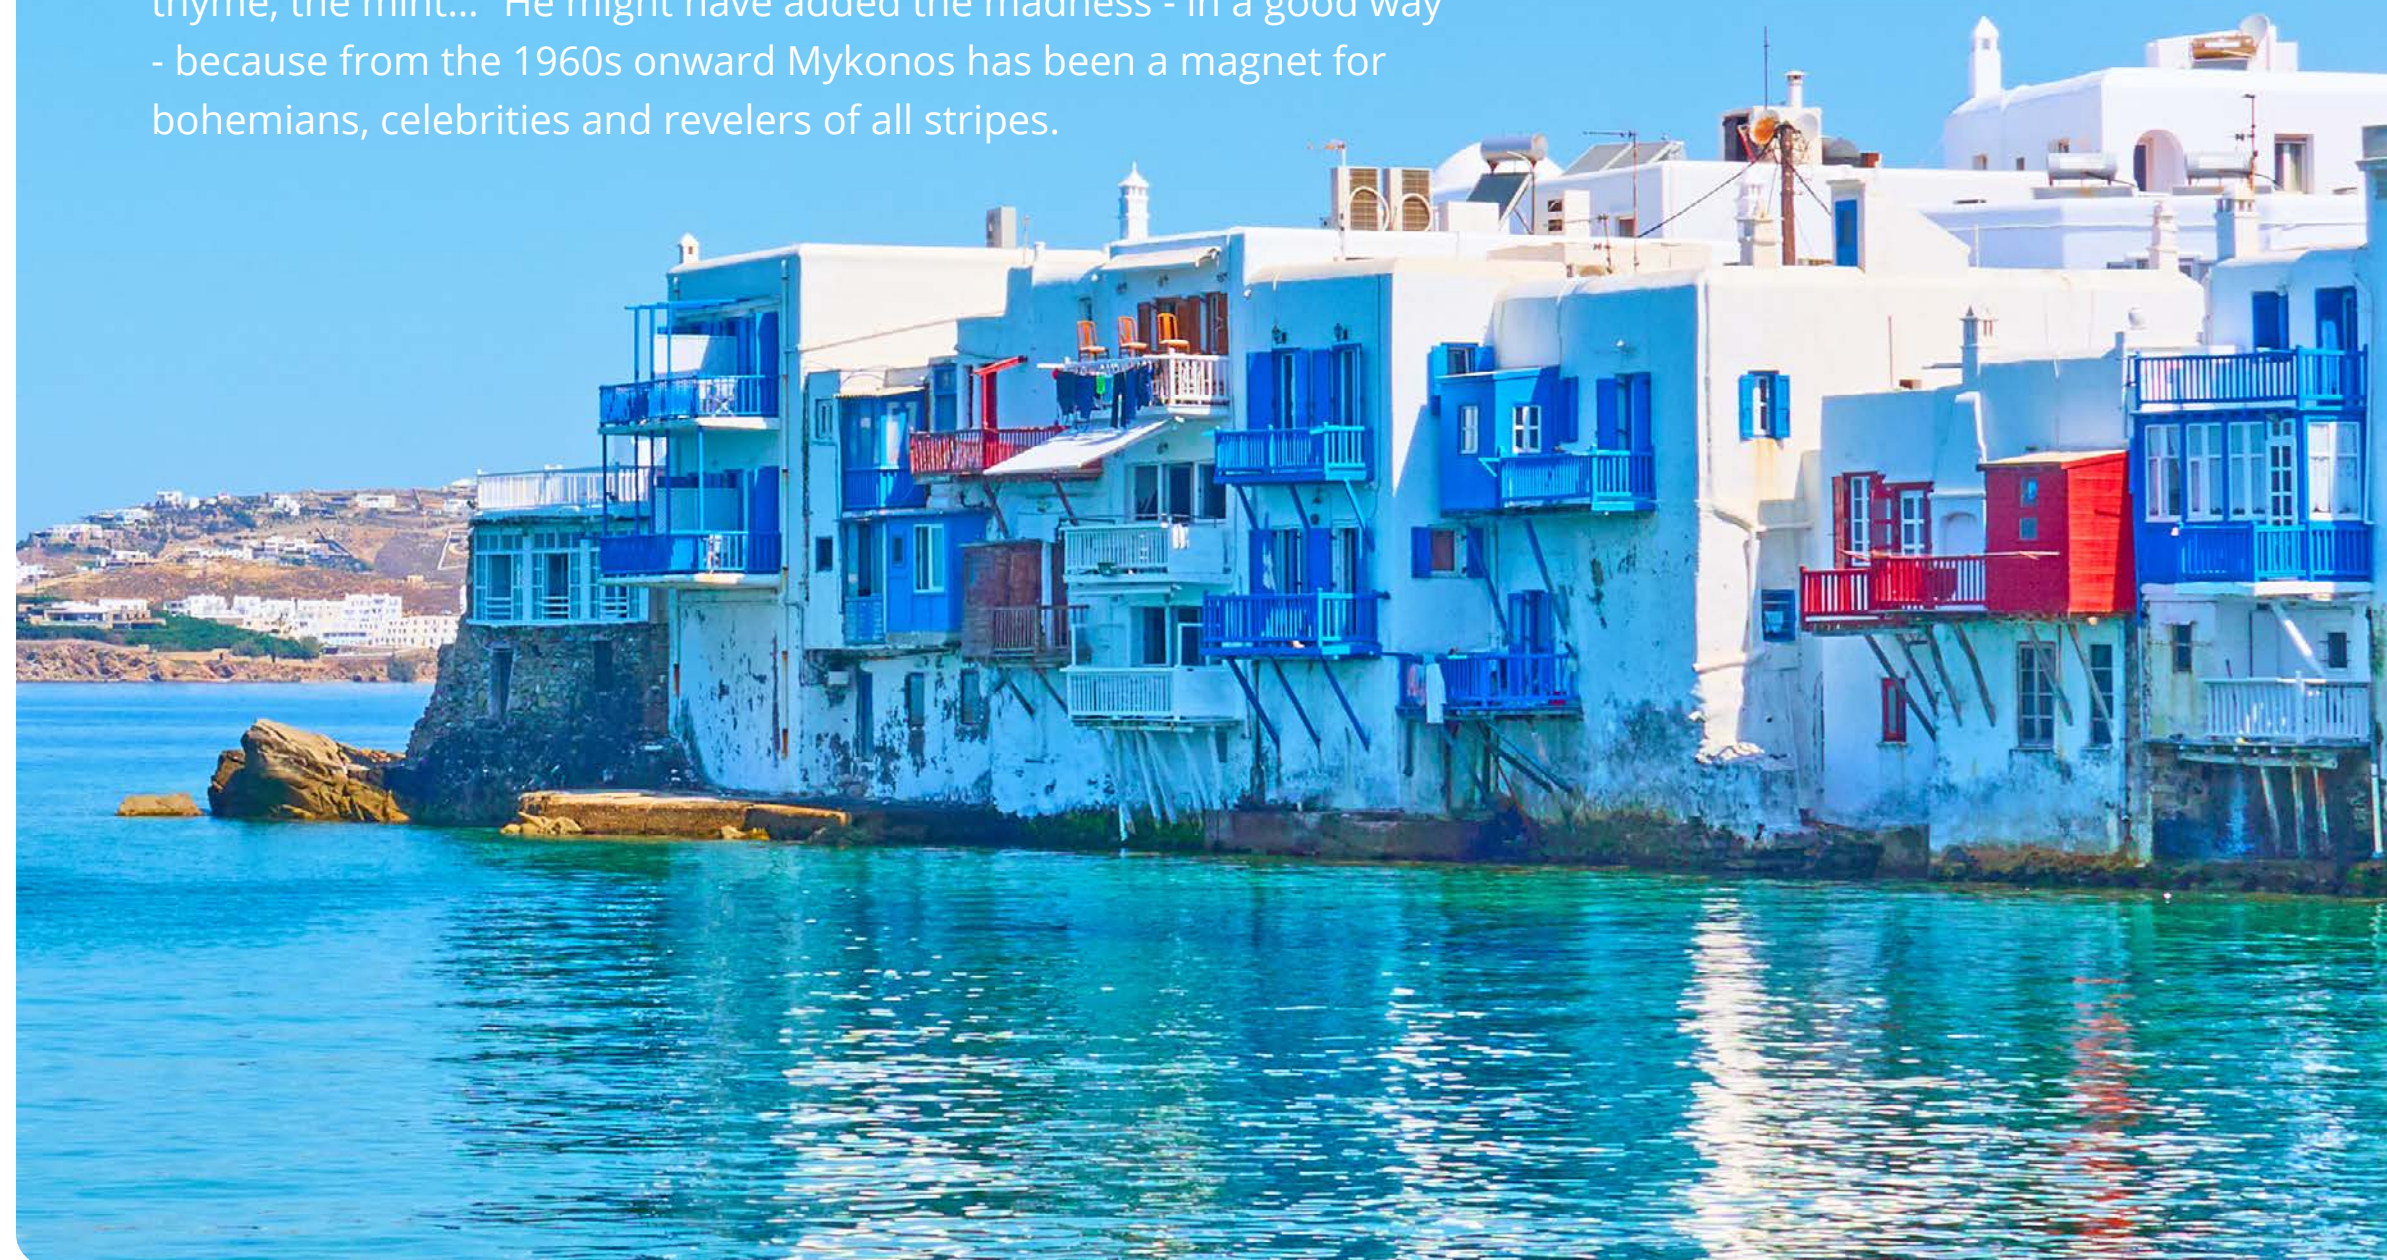

Prepare to be enchanted by Muscat's blend of ancient culture and modern flair. This gem in the Persian Gulf will be your playground for the day, with serene beaches and majestic forts that offer a glimpse into Oman's rich heritage. Against a backdrop of dramatic mountains, you can stroll along the Corniche, witness the grandeur of the Sultan Qaboos Grand Mosque, and haggle for the perfect souvenir in the vibrant Muttrah Souq.

Your resorts

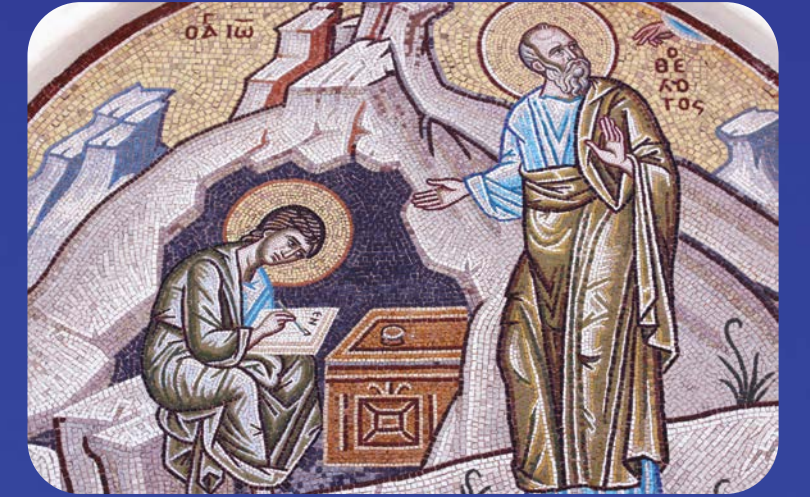

Mykonos

There is no Greek island more synonymous with carefree times, glitz and glamour than Mykonos. At just 85 square kilometers Mykonos is a small island but it's one that positively crackles with excitement, especially in the long Greek summer. Mykonos has a very rocky terrain and its windiness (the meltemia) can sometimes surprise you, but you'll also find some of the most amazing beaches around and a cosmopolitan vibe you simply won't find anywhere else. The main town, Chora, is famous for its winding lanes lined with gleaming white cubiform houses with painted blue doors and sophisticated shops and restaurants, but beyond the town, Mykonos retains a refreshingly bucolic atmosphere. In fact, Nikos Kazantzakis, author of Zorba the Greek, once wrote that "Mykonos is wonderful...the air, the earth, the dry mountain, the simple people, their dialect, the figs, the grapes, the thyme, the mint..." He might have added the madness - in a good way - because from the 1960s onward Mykonos has been a magnet for bohemians, celebrities and revelers of all stripes.

Patmos

There are islands in the Mediterranean with captivating history, fantastic beaches and beautiful scenery, and then there is an island like Rhodes that quite literally has it all. Long before the days of the Roman Empire, many a maritime trail led to Rhodes, the largest of Greece's Dodecanese islands, named for the native pink hibiscus flowers. Unlike some popular Greek islands like Mykonos and Santorini, Rhodes is lush and green, a veritable garden in the eastern Aegean. And with an area of 541 square miles (1,400 square kilometers), it's large too. Rhodes is also home to some of the most spectacular medieval fortifications anywhere, built by the Knights of the Order of Saint John in the 14th century. The virtually intact Palace of the Grand Master in the town of Rhodes is a Gothic jewel right out of a fairytale; this, combined with the Street of the Knights and some 200 winding lanes, creates a dazzling, living tapestry. The island of Rhodes is in many ways a microcosm of Greece. The Old Town of Rhodes, at the northernmost point of the island, is probably the best-preserved medieval city in all of Europe. Midway down the eastern side, Lindos (some 55 km south of Rhodes town) blends archaeological intrigue with a panoramic town that is more reminiscent of a Cycladic island like Mykonos. The western side, meanwhile, has many orchards and vineyards as well as impressive ancient ruins at sites like Kameiros.

Port Said (Cairo)

Port Said is the first stop on our Three Continents itinerary; an epic journey that covers Europe, Asia and Africa in just seven nights. The port grew in the 19th century in order to serve the Suez Canal; its many old houses with original balconies give it a certain seaside charm. From here, we head to Cairo: a city that's both ancient and crackling with contemporary energy. With around 22 million inhabitants, the sprawling Egyptian capital was founded as a royal city in 969 AD. Today, it's a magnificent medley of historic mosques and modern skyscrapers, enchanting bazaars, car horns blaring around a tangle of streets, and Pharaonic monuments - including the Great Pyramid of Giza. With its rich cultural tapestry and breathtakingly modern verve, Cairo is a wonder that's not to be missed.

Rhodes

There are islands in the Mediterranean with captivating history, fantastic beaches and beautiful scenery, and then there is an island like Rhodes that quite literally has it all. Long before the days of the Roman Empire, many a maritime trail led to Rhodes, the largest of Greece's Dodecanese islands, named for the native pink hibiscus flowers. The western side, meanwhile, has many orchards and vineyards as well as impressive ancient ruins at sites like Kameiros. The island's interior is a place of verdant forests, hills and oases of calm like Seven Springs and the Valley of the Butterflies nature park, bringing to mind the countryside of northern Greece, while the beaches you'll find in Rhodes are among the widest and best in Greece and indeed the Mediterranean.

Samos

Thick forests carpet the slopes of an island that’s shrouded in mystery and magic. Deep pockets of caves appear from nowhere and immaculate landscapes seem untouched by time. Cosmopolitan yet deeply historical, the island of Samos guards layer upon layer of fascinating history that only those who venture on its shores can truly discover. An island of legends: Pythagoras, Epicurus, Aristarchus, Aesop and birthplace of Hera, it’s no coincidence that its temples rival the Parthenon in size and significance. Arriving into Pythagoreio port, you’ll encounter an enchanting quayside promenade crammed with tavernas and shops as well as the Archaeological Museum that’s an island must-visit for history lovers. Journey further inland and you’ll find waterfalls amidst dense lush forests and villages that peep out of the hills. Pristine beaches fringe the coastline and nature admirers can delight in the wetlands, lake and marshes that attract flocks of birds to Samos island every year.

Santorini

Few islands have the power to captivate the way Santorini does. Gorgeous and cosmopolitan, it’s famous for that classic Greek island look with white painted houses clustered along narrow winding lanes, perched atop reddish-black volcanic cliffs that tumble down more than a thousand feet to the wide caldera. It’s easy to see how this island, the pearl of the Cycladic archipelago, can lay claim to being the source of the legend of Atlantis, either. Santorini, or “Thera” in Greek, is most celebrated for the dramatic views of its volcanic caldera, formed during a massive eruption around 1646 B.C. That eruption shook up the island - making its center actually collapse - but also created some of the most spectacular scenery in the world.

Your resorts

Sharm El Sheikh

Nestled between the Sinai desert and the shore of the Red Sea, Sharm El-Sheik is the perfect destination for unforgettable adventures. With an underwater world teeming with brightly coloured marine life and vibrant coral reefs, a snorkelling expedition is a must. Cross the desert on a quad bike for the ultimate adrenaline rush. Or take time to relax in one of the popular seaside cafés, where the blend of spices and sea air will invigorate your senses before you return to the comforts of your onward voyage.

Sir Bani Yas Island

Go wild for this island oasis, where nature and luxury intertwine on the shores of the Persian Gulf. One of the eight desert islands of Al Dhafr, it offers a unique escape where you can get up close to thousands of free-roaming animals at the Arabian Wildlife Park, including gazelles, hyenas and cheetahs. Explore the island's heritage sites or head to one of its pristine beaches: perfect for sunbathing, snorkelling, or, in the case of Al Yamm beach, watching flamingos in a nearby lagoon. This truly is a nature lover's paradise.

Your resorts

Split

Split is the second largest city in Croatia, a coastal metropolis that blends ancient history with modern life. It was founded over 2,000 years ago, and became an important settlement in Roman times. At the heart of Split is Diocletian's Palace, built for the Roman emperor at the turn of the 4th century and now a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

The palace covered around 30,000 square metres: it wasn't just an imperial residence but a military garrison. Over the centuries, it slowly grew and turned into a town. But the well-preserved ancient columns, courtyards and cavernous cellars still remain, offering a fascinating glimpse into Roman life. Today they're filled with buzzing cafes and bars, lively markets and an array of shops.

Thessaloniki

"There is a homeland for everyone, while there is Thessaloniki," wrote Nikiforos Choumnos, a 14th-century Byzantine dignitary and scholar. And he was right: Thessaloniki is a gorgeous and cosmopolitan seaside city and the largest in Greece after Athens. This historic capital of the Macedonia region was founded in 315 BC by the Macedonian king Cassander and named after his wife who was a half-sister of Alexander the Great. This is the city that in the days of Philip II of Macedon would steal Athens' thunder. It's relatively flat but there are simply mountains of history: Roman and Byzantine ruins, early Christian heritage (the Apostle Paul brought the first message of Christianity here in 50 BC), Pontic Greeks and Armenians, remnants of Venetian and Ottoman rule and perhaps most movingly, a remarkable Jewish history too. Centuries of cultural commingling has also made Thessaloniki a culinary nirvana, with almost too many great restaurants and little eateries to count.

Your resorts

Venice

Venice is a magical destination like no other place on Earth; a floating city made up of more than 100 islands in a shallow lagoon, separated by canals and connected by bridges. Considered to be one of Europe's most romantic cities, it's famous for its stunning mix of architecture, unique atmosphere, and its classic boat, the gondola.

The Grand Canal separates the two halves of the city's historic centre, where you can only get around by boat or by foot. With no cars, you can wander to your heart's content through winding alleys, discovering picture-perfect scenes at every turn. Take the time to admire the magnificent St Mark's Basilica, stroll through vibrant markets, and savour fresh seafood in a traditional trattoria.
